

CEP 499 - INDEPENDENT STUDY STUDENT-FACULTY AGREEMENT

To map out course of study/action and receive an add code for CEP 499

A student's desired course of study is not always available in a course or during a time that compliments a student's schedule. CEP 499 offers an opportunity for a student to create their own syllabus/plan of study for credit. Individual reading, research, fieldwork or other special projects outlined prior to completed work are appropriate for variable CEP 499 credit. An overseeing faculty member must approve the learning goals, course of study/action, and evaluative method (paper, project, test, etc.).
